To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend King Systems LLC for any and all of your audio/visual needs. iTriage began working with King Systems in the fall of 2011. We met for an extensive consultation regarding the audio/visual design and layout for our new corporate offices. We wanted a true state-of-the-art facility and I appreciated the ideas and recommendations they brought to the table, based on their extensive experience in the industry. After a thorough Q&A session, King Systems gathered the information they needed to submit a complete and thorough proposal. Though the original proposal went through many iterations over the course of the project, they continued to work with us with patience and professionalism.

Each person I have interacted with from King Systems has been professional, skilled, reliable and a pleasure to work with. King Systems is entirely comprehensive in their planning and installation. Additionally, they are very easy to work with on last minute changes.

I feel that King Systems went over and above for iTriage through the course of our construction project. King Systems is a company I strongly recommend and look forward to our continued work into the future.

Sincerely,

Emily R. Trask
